BASIC INFORMATION

1. Why did I get this notice?

You or your company may have directly purchased Cathode Ray Tubes (CRTs) or certain products containing those tubes between March 1, 1995 and November 25, 2007. A direct purchaser is a person or business who bought a CRT, or a television or computer monitor containing a CRT directly from one or more of the Defendants, co-conspirators, affiliates, or subsidiaries themselves, as opposed to an intermediary (such as a retail store).

You have the right to know about the litigation and about your legal rights and options before the Court decides whether to approve the Settlement.

The notice explains the litigation, the settlement, and your legal rights.

The Court in charge of the case is the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, and the case is called In re Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) Antitrust Litigation, MDL No. 1917. The people who sued are called Plaintiffs and the companies they sued are called Defendants.

3. What is this lawsuit about?

The lawsuit alleges that Defendants and Co-Conspirators conspired to raise and fix the prices of CRTs and the CRTs contained in certain finished products for over ten years, resulting in overcharges to direct purchasers of those CRTs and certain finished products containing CRTs. The complaint describes how the Defendants and Co-Conspirators allegedly violated the U.S. antitrust laws by establishing a global cartel that set artificially high prices for, and restricted the supply of CRTs and the televisions and monitors that contained them. Defendants deny Plaintiffs' allegations. The Court has not decided who is right.

4. Why is there a Settlement but the litigation is continuing?

Only some of the Defendants have agreed to settle the lawsuit. This notice concerns a settlement with Thomson and TDA. Plaintiffs have also reached seven previous settlements with Chunghwa Picture Tubes Ltd., Chunghwa Picture Tubes (Malaysia) Sdn. 5. What is a Cathode Ray Tube Product?

If the Plaintiffs obtain money or benefits as a result of a trial or future settlement, you will be notified about those outcomes, if any, at that time. Important information about the case will be posted on the website, www.CRTDirectPurchaserAntitrustSettlement.com as it becomes available. Please check the website to be kept informed about any future developments.

THE SETTLEMENT CLASS

7. How do I know if I'm part of the Settlement Class?

The Settlement Class includes:

All persons and entities who, between March 1, 1995 and November 25, 2007, directly purchased a CRT Product in the United States from any defendant or subsidiary or affiliate thereof, or any co-conspirator ("Settlement Class").

8. What does the Settlement provide?

The Settlement with Thomson and TDA provides for a payment in the amount of $9,750,000 in cash to the Settlement Class. The Settling Defendants also agreed to cooperate with the Plaintiffs in providing certain information about the allegations in the complaint. In addition, the Settling Defendants' sales remain in the case for the purpose of computing damages against the remaining non-settling Defendants.

More details are in the Settlement Agreement, available at www.CRTDirectPurchaserAntitrustSettlement.com.

9. When can I get a payment?

No money will be distributed to any Class Member yet. The lawyers will pursue the lawsuit against the Non-Settling Defendants to see if any future settlements or judgments can be obtained in the case and then be distributed together, to reduce expenses.

Any future distribution of the Settlement Funds will be done on a pro rata basis. You will be notified in the future when and where to send a claim form. DO NOT SEND ANY CLAIMS NOW.

In the future, each class member's pro rata share of the Settlement Fund will be determined by computing each valid claimant's total CRT Product purchases divided by the total valid CRT Product purchases claimed. This percentage is multiplied by the Net Settlement Fund (total settlements minus all costs, attorneys' fees, and expenses) to determine each claimant's pro rata share of the Settlement Fund. To determine your CRT Product purchases, CRT tubes (CPTs and CDTs) are calculated at full value while CRT televisions are valued at 50% and CRT computer monitors are valued at 75%.

In summary, all valid claimants will share in the settlement funds on a pro rata basis determined by the CRT value of the product you purchased - tubes 100%, monitors 75% and televisions 50%.

10. What are my rights with regard to the Settlement Class?

Remain in the Settlement Class: If you wish to remain a member of the Settlement Class you do not need to take any action at this time.

Get out of the Settlement Class: If you wish to keep any of your rights to sue the Settling Defendants about the claims in this case, you must exclude yourself from the Settlement Class. You will not get any money from the settlement if you exclude yourself from the Settlement Class.

To exclude yourself from the Settlement Class, you must send a letter that includes the following:

- Your name, address and telephone number,
- A statement saying that you want to be excluded from In re Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) Antitrust Litigation, MDL No. 1917, Thomson/TDA Settlement; and
- Your signature.

You must mail your exclusion request, postmarked no later than August 10, 2015 to:

CRT Direct Settlement c/o Gilardi & Co. LLC P.O. Box 8090 San Rafael, CA 94912-8090

Remain in the Settlement Class and Object: If you have comments about, or disagree with, any aspect of the Settlement, you may express your views to the Court by writing to the addresses below. The written response needs to include your name, address, telephone number, the case name and number (In re Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) Antitrust Litigation, MDL No. 1917), a brief explanation of your reasons for objection, and your signature. The response must be postmarked no later than August 10, 2015 and mailed to:

Unless you exclude yourself from the Settlement Class, you can't sue the Settling Defendants (or any of the related entities that are released in the Settlement Agreement), or be part of any other lawsuit against these Settling Defendants about the legal issues in this case. It also means that all of the decisions by the Court will bind you. The "Release of Claims" includes any causes of actions asserted or that could have been asserted in the lawsuit, as described more fully in the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement is available at www.CRTDirectPurchaserAntitrustSettlement.com.

THE SETTLEMENT APPROVAL HEARING

12. When and where will the Court decide whether to approve the Settlement?

The Court will hold a Fairness Hearing at 10:00 a.m. on October 23, 2015, at the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, San Francisco Division, in Courtroom 1 on the 17th Floor, at 450 Golden Gate Ave. The hearing may be moved to a different date or time without additional notice, so it is a good idea to check the class website for information. At this hearing, the Court will consider whether the Settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate. If there are objections or comments, the Court will consider them at that time. After the hearing, the Court will decide whether to approve the Settlement. We do not know how long these decisions will take.

13. Do I have to come to the hearing?

No. Interim Lead Counsel will answer any questions the Court may have, but you are welcome to come at your own expense. If you send an objection or comment, you don't have to come to Court to talk about it. As long as you mailed your written objection on time, the Court will consider it. You may also pay another lawyer to attend, but it's not required.

14. May I speak at the hearing?

If you want your own lawyer instead of Interim Lead Counsel to speak at the Fairness Hearing, you must give the Court a paper that is called a "Notice of Appearance." The Notice of Appearance should include the name and number of the lawsuit (In re Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) Antitrust Litigation, MDL No. 1917), and state that you wish to enter an appearance at the Fairness Hearing. It also must include your name, address, telephone number, and signature. Your "Notice of Appearance" must be postmarked no later than August 10, 2015. You cannot speak at Hearing if you previously asked to be excluded from the Settlement.

The Notice of Appearance must be sent to the addresses listed in Question 10.

THE LAWYERS REPRESENTING YOU

15. Do I have a lawyer in the case?

Yes. The Court has appointed the law firm of Saveri & Saveri, Inc. to represent you as "Interim Lead Counsel." You do not have to pay Interim Lead Counsel. If you want to be represented by your own lawyers, and have that lawyer appear in court for you in this case, you may hire one at your own expense.

16. How will the lawyers be paid?

Class Counsel are not asking for attorneys' fees at this time. At a future time, Interim Lead Counsel will ask the Court for attorneys' fees not to exceed one-third (33.3%) of this or any future Settlement Fund plus reimbursement of their costs and expenses, in accordance with the provisions of the Settlement Agreement. Interim Lead Counsel may also request that an amount be paid to each of the Class Representatives who helped the lawyers on behalf of the whole Class.

REACTION TO MARRIAGE RULING

With Same-Sex Decision, Evangelical Churches Address New Reality changing legal landscape on gay rights will inevitably lead to constraints on religious freedom.

But the challenges are not only external. To a degree that is rarely acknowledged in the public many square, evangelical churches are also grappling with internal questions. Especially in and around large urban areas, pastors increasingly report that some openly gay and lesbian Christians are opting to worship in evangelical congregations ("more and more are coming to our church," Mr. Allison said) and that heterosexual worshipers are struggling over the church's posture because friends or family members are gay.

"There is a growing desire on the part of some, even within the church, to combine their Christian faith with the acceptance of homosexual practice," the Wheaton Bible statement acknowledged.

The result has been an obvious change in tone and emphasis — but not teaching or policy — at many churches. Almost all evangelical churches oppose samesex marriage, and many do not allow gays and lesbians to serve in leadership positions unless they are celibate. Some pastors, however, now either minimize their preaching on the subject or speak of homosexuality in carefully contextualized sermons emphasizing that everyone is a sinner and that Christians should love and welcome all.

"Evangelicals are coming to the realization that they hold a minority view in the culture, and that on this issue, they have lost the home-field advantage," said Ed Stetzer, the executive director of LifeWay Research, which surveys evangelicals. "They are learning to speak with winsomeness and graciousness, which, when their view was the majority, evangelicals tended not to do." A handful of evangelical churches have changed their positions. City Church in San Francisco, for example, has dropped its rule that gays and lesbians commit to celibacy to become members, and GracePointe Church in Tennessee has said gays and lesbians can serve in leadership roles and receive the sacrament of marriage. Ken Wilson, who founded the Vineyard Church in Ann Arbor, Mich., published an open letter calling for a greater embrace of gays and lesbians in evangelical churches. But Mr. Stetzer said they are the "Well-known evangelicals who have shifted on same-sex marriage, you could fit them all in an S.U.V.," Mr. Stetzer said. "If you do shift, you become a media celebrity, but the shift among pracexceptions.

IOSHUA LOTT FOR THE NEW YORK TIME

The Rev. Wilfredo De Jesús, senior pastor of New Life Covenant Church, noted that for 2,000 years the Christian church had often been at odds with the culture.

ticing evangelicals is minimal."

Polling supports that assertion. Even in an era when most Americans, including a majority of Catholics and white mainline Protestants, support same-sex marriage, among white evangelicals just 27 percent are in favor while 70 percent are opposed, according to the Pew Research Center.

"Just because it's legal doesn't mean it's ethical," said the Rev. Wilfredo De Jesús, the senior pastor of New Life Covenant Church, an Assemblies of God megachurch that has nearly 20,000 members on multiple campuses, most of them in Chicago.

"We won't marry two men. That goes against our beliefs," said Mr. De Jesús, who is known as Pastor Choco. He, like others interviewed, noted that over 2,000 years of Christian history, the church has often been at odds with the culture.

"We're prepared to go to prison, or whatever occurs, but the church cannot change," he said.

But even in his church family, there are gays and lesbians. Fa'Darryl Brown, 34, a gay man who worships at New Life Southeast in Chicago, a "daughter church" of New Life Covenant, said simply, "I'm not aware of Choco's stance." Mr. Brown said that his local pastor had described homosexuality as a sin, but that "he doesn't make you feel hell-bound."

"I just see the subject of sexuality as one that we may have to agree to disagree on," he said. "It doesn't mean that I can't sit under his ministry."

The court decision did not come as a complete surprise, of course. Wheaton Bible began working on its statement on Tuesday, anticipating the ruling. And same-sex marriage was already legal in Illinois, as in many other states, before the Supreme Court decision; it was legalized here last year.

In Libertyville, Ill., at one of the main campuses of a nondenominational church called The Chapel, which draws about 6,000 worshipers each weekend across eight campuses, the pastor, Scott Chapman, chose this weekend not to talk about the Supreme Court but to stick to a planned sermon on Moses.

Two years ago, he had preached at length on homosexuality, but only after a series of meetings with gay and lesbian worshipers; in that sermon, he repeatedly referred to homosexuality as a sin, but also apologized for the behavior of Christians. "For far too long, in far too many places, far too frequently," he said then, "gay and lesbian people have been treated very badly in the name of Jesus Christ, and it's not O.K."

In an interview, Mr. Chapman said that he did not support same-sex marriage, but that "we have a substantial number of folks in our church in that lifestyle."

"We want to be a place that loves everybody and is open to everybody," he added.

After The Chapel's Saturday evening worship, one of the church's members, Kevin Woodside, 51, said he felt uncomfortable watching news coverage of the Supreme Court decision and seeing the angry signs held by some opponents.

"It's hard to look at that as a Christian response to this," he said. "I don't want to judge anybody on this. We all come here in different states of brokenness."

At Wheaton Bible on Sunday, Mr. Allison said that when he was delivering the statement reiterating his church's opposition to same-sex marriage, he looked out over the crowd and guessed that 5 percent to 10 percent of those present disagreed. Interviews at the church's cafe bore that out: Even as he was presiding at a late service, a few attendees at the early service volunteered that they did not share their church's reaction to the Supreme Court decision.

"It's not a sad day. It's a happy day," said one, who asked not to be quoted by name while disagreeing with a church leader preaching in the next room. "The court made the right decision," said another.

Far more of those interviewed said they supported the church's position that marriage should be reserved for opposite-sex couples. John Mulsoff, 66, who was playing with his grandson, a Bible at his elbow, during a morning break, said he and his wife discussed the issue during a long car ride the previous day.

"I'm very conflicted about it," he said. "I believe, as our church does, that marriage should be between a man and a woman, but I don't believe in discrimination, and I can't say how I would deal with it if I had a son or a daughter in that situation."

Claudia Velazquez, 21, said: "I don't agree with legalization, but I do respect the human beings. It does not take away from their character, and at the end they're a creation of God, too."

LEGAL NOTICE

If You Bought A Cathode Ray Tube ("CRT") or CRT Product, A Class Action Settlement May Affect You.

CRT Products include Televisions or Computer Monitors that contain Cathode Ray Tubes

A settlement has been reached with a group of defendants in a class action lawsuit involving CRTs and CRT Products. This is the eighth settlement to date. CRT stands for "Cathode Ray Tube." "Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) Products" include Cathode Ray Tubes and finished products that contain a Cathode Ray Tube such as Televisions and Computer Monitors.

What is this lawsuit about?

The lawsuit alleges that Defendants and Co-Conspirators engaged in an unlawful conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain or stabilize the prices of CRTs. Plaintiffs further claim that direct purchasers of televisions and monitors that contain a cathode ray tube from the Defendants may recover for the effect that the cathode ray tube conspiracy had on the prices of televisions and monitors. Plaintiffs allege that, as result of the unlawful conspiracy, they and other direct purchasers paid more for CRT Products than they would have absent the conspiracy. Defendants deny Plaintiffs' claims.

Who's included in the settlement?

The settlement includes all persons and entities who, between March 1, 1995 and November 25, 2007, directly purchased a CRT Product in the United States from any defendant or subsidiary or affiliate thereof, or any co-conspirator ("Settlement Class").

Who are the Settling Defendants?

A settlement has been reached with Thomson SA (now known as Technicolor SA) and Thomson Consumer Electronics, Inc. (now known as Technicolor USA, Inc.) (collectively, "Thomson"); and Technologies Displays Americas LLC (formerly known as Thomson Displays Americas LLC) ("TDA"). The companies are together referred to as the "Settling Defendants." A complete list of Defendants and Co-Conspirators is set out in the Long Form Notice available at www.CRTDirectPurchaserAntitrustSettlement.com.

What does the settlement provide?

The Thomson/TDA settlement provides for the payment of $9,750,000 in cash to the Settlement Class. The Settling Defendants agreed to cooperate with the Plaintiffs in providing certain information about the allegations in the Complaint. Money will not be distributed to Class members at this time. The lawyers will pursue the lawsuit against the other Defendants to see if any future settlements or judgments can be obtained in the case and then be distributed together, to reduce expenses.

What are my rights?

If you wish to remain a member of the Settlement Class you do not need to take any action at this time. If you do not want to be legally bound by the settlement, you must exclude yourself in writing by August 10, 2015 or you will not be able to sue, or continue to sue, the Settling Defendants about the legal claims in this case.

If you wish to comment on or disagree with any aspect of the proposed settlement, you must do so in writing no later than August 10, 2015. The settlement agreement, along with details on how to object to it, is available at www. CRTDirectPurchaserAntitrustSettlement.com. The U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California will hold a Fairness Hearing at 10:00 a.m. on October 23, 2015 at the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, 450 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco, CA 94102, Courtroom 1, 17th Floor. The hearing may be moved to a different date or time without additional notice, so it is a good idea to check the class website for information.

The Court has appointed the law firm of Saveri & Saveri, Inc. to represent Direct Purchaser Class members as Interim Lead Class Counsel. At the Fairness Hearing, the Court will consider whether the settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate. If there are objections or comments, the Court will consider them at that time. You may appear at the hearing, but don't have to. We do not know how long these decisions will take. Please do not contact the Court about this case.

Maine Governor Becomes a Party of One to eliminate the income tax by increasing and broadening the sales tax. He failed to engage his own party in advance, and Republican legislators balked.

Among them was Senator Tom Saviello. "The governor is a businessman, a former C.E.O. whose method is to do what he wants," Mr. Saviello said of Mr. LePage, who was the general manager of a 14-store discount chain. "But I have to figure out what's best for the people of Franklin County."

the people of Franklin County."

Mr. LePage also has refused to release money for bond issues approved by voters. And he declared that he would veto every bill sponsored by a Democrat until Democrats supported his proposed constitutional amendment to eliminate Maine's income tax. Democrats said the governor had no plan for filling the $1.7 billion hole that eliminating the income tax would create.

In mid-June, after the Legislature passed a budget that did not include his tax-cut proposals, the governor showed off a Christmas tree outside his office. It was adorned with the pictures of legislators he said had loaded up the budget with wasteful spending projects, often called pork. He produced a pink plastic pig and squeaked it.

And he extended his veto threat to include any bill sponsored by Republicans, saying they had conspired with Democrats to pass the budget.

"I want to show that for five months they wasted our time, and this time I'm going to waste a little of their time," said Mr. Le-Page, who went on to veto 64 line items in the budget.

Mr. Bennett, the Republican Party chairman, said Mr. LePage felt justified in taking these steps because the budget "didn't reflect the reason he got re-elected."

The effect has been to unify the Republicans and Democrats.

"Right now, the Legislature is An angry and tired Legislature fights back with overrides.

united in lock step and opposed to the governor," said Mark Brewer, a political scientist at the University of Maine. "They view this as an institutional fight rather than a partisan fight."

All of this set the stage for the fury that erupted last week when Mr. LePage threatened to halt state financing to the Good Will-Hinckley charter school if it allowed Mr. Eves to become its president.

"Speaker Eves has been an ardent foe of charter schools for his entire political career; then he turns around and gets hired to run a charter school — whose board is chaired by Eves's own State House employee — for a cushy job worth about $150,000 in total compensation," Mr. LePage said in a statement explaining his actions.

Mr. Bennett said that the governor had discretion over the use of the money in question and that he was well within his legal rights to withhold it.

Representative Jeffrey Evangelos, an independent, was among those who began recorreling impachment proceed.

among those who began researching impeachment proceedings last week on the grounds of abuse of authority, misuse of assets and unbecoming conduct.

"You can't leverage state assets to intimidate a private entity," he said.

The state's biggest newspaper.

The state's biggest newspaper, The Portland Press Herald, has called for a House investigation of the Eves affair and said that, unless new information emerged justifying the governor's action, he should be impeached and tried by the Senate.

So far, more than a dozen independents and Democrats have joined the impeachment effort, Mr. Evangelos said, but many more are holding back.

Mr. Katz, chairman of the Government Oversight Committee, said on Friday that he expected the committee and the Office of Program Evaluation and Government Accountability to begin an investigation of the episode.

He added with a sigh: "Summer can't come soon enough."

Jailed Crime Boss's Tip to Students: Go to Law School

BOSTON (AP) — James (Whitey) Bulger, the former Boston crime boss, has offered advice for three high school girls who wrote to him for a history project: Crime does not pay.

Mr. Bulger sent the handwritten letter, dated Feb. 24, from the federal prison in Florida where he is serving two life sentences, The Boston Globe reported Sun-

"My life was wasted and spent foolishly, brought shame and suffering on my parents and siblings and will end soon," he wrote.

"Advice is a cheap commodity. Some seek it from me about crime. I know only one thing for sure: If you want to make crime pay go to law school."

Mr. Bulger, 85, was convicted in 2013 on racketeering charges that included playing a role in 11 murders. He spent 16 years as one of the nation's most wanted in California in 2011. His lawyers are appealing his conviction next month before the federal appeals court in Boston.

Rains Boost Cotton Prices

By Julie Wernau

Cotton prices are plumping up as investors await word on the state of the next U.S. crop.

Heavy rains in April and May delayed cotton planting in several states, including top producer Texas. Investors are betting the land

COMMODITIES that planted with cotton will fall short of the 9.5 million acres U.S. farmers had said they intended to sow with cottonseed. The U.S. Department of Agriculture will report the planted acres on Tuesday.

Cotton for December delivery rose 5.6% for the latest week to 67.51 cents a pound, the highest close since April 30. Friday's 3.3% jump was the biggest daily gain in two months for the most actively traded cotton contract on the ICE Futures U.S. exchange.

The surge reflects hopes that the gap between U.S. cotton production and demand will narrow. The USDA has predicted the U.S. would produce less cotton in the vear ahead than in the current vear, but demand will remain near the lowest in more than a decade as apparel and textile companies turn to synthetic fibers. The U.S. is the world's largest cotton exporter.

"South Texas is a traditional source of early, new-crop bales, with a reputation for high fiber quality," John Robinson, a professor and specialist in cotton marketing at Texas A&M University in College Station, said in a recent note. If crop yields in Texas are lower or if the harvest is delayed and the maturing crop gets too wet from seasonal rains, "it could create a temporary shortage of quality fiber," he said.

The harvest is likely to run behind schedule due to the late start of the planting. The spring rains, which ended a four-year drought in Texas, also made it difficult for growers to get the seed into the fields. As of June 21, 94% of the planned U.S. cotton acreage had been sown, while in previous years planting was complete at this point.

However, traders said a smaller number of acres doesn't necessarily mean less cotton.

"You'd have to lose a million acres [to see a significant decline in production], and there is no way that's happened," said Bobby Walton, president of Walcot Trading Co. in Memphis, Tenn. "My contacts in Texas are telling me that the crop is about two weeks late. We can catch up two weeks in no time with the heat we're getting now.'

At the same time, China, the world's biggest cotton consumer, is buying fewer bales as it tries to whittle down strategic stockpiles acquired a few years ago, while the industry is dealing with lagging demand for cotton as consumers seek synthetic fabrics that wick away moisture.

Still, cotton prices could find support from expectations that less of this year's U.S. crop will be carried over than originally anticipated, analysts said. Net export sales in the week ended June 18 reached 60,500 running bales of cotton, and cumulative sales to date are already greater than the USDA's export estimate of 10.7 million bales.

Plexus Cotton, a trader in Liverpool, England, said some mills may need to tap bales left over from the previous U.S. crop while they wait for the next harvest. The USDA had predicted that 4.4 million bales would be left when the crop year ends July 31, but that number could drop if mills

CLASS ACTIONS

LEGAL NOTICE

If You Bought A Cathode Ray Tube ("CRT") or CRT Product, A Class Action Settlement May Affect You.

CRT Products include Televisions or Computer Monitors that contain Cathode Ray Tubes

A settlement has been reached with a group of defendants in a class action lawsuit involving CRTs and CRT Products. This is the eighth settlement to date. CRT stands for "Cathode Ray Tube." "Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) Products" include Cathode Ray Tubes and finished products that contain a Cathode Ray Tube such as Televisions and Computer Monitors.

What is this lawsuit about?

The lawsuit alleges that Defendants and Co-Conspirators engaged in an unlawful conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain or stabilize the prices of CRTs. Plaintiffs further claim that direct purchasers of televisions and monitors that contain a cathode ray tube from the Defendants may recover for the effect that the cathode ray tube conspiracy had on the prices of televisions and monitors. Plaintiffs allege that, as result of the unlawful conspiracy, they and other direct purchasers paid more for CRT Products than they would have absent the conspiracy. Defendants deny Plaintiffs' claims.

Who's included in the settlement?

The settlement includes all persons and entities who, between March 1, 1995 and November 25, 2007, directly purchased a CRT Product in the United States from any defendant or subsidiary or affiliate thereof, or any coconspirator ("Settlement Class").

Who are the Settling Defendants?

A settlement has been reached with Thomson SA (now known as Technicolor SA) and Thomson Consumer Electronics, Inc. (now known as Technicolor USA, Inc.) (collectively, "Thomson"); and Technologies Displays Americas LLC (formerly known as Thomson Displays Americas LLC) ("TDA"). The companies are together referred to as the "Settling Defendants." A complete list of Defendants and Co-Conspirators is set out in the Long Form Notice available at www.CRTDirectPurchaserAntitrustSettlement.com.

What does the settlement provide?

The Thomson/TDA settlement provides for the payment of $9,750,000 in cash to the Settlement Class. The Settling Defendants agreed to cooperate with the Plaintiffs in providing certain information about the allegations in the Complaint. Money will not be distributed to Class members at this time. The lawyers will pursue the lawsuit against the other Defendants to see if any future settlements or judgments can be obtained in the case and then be distributed together, to reduce expenses.

What are my rights?

If you wish to remain a member of the Settlement Class you do not need to take any action at this time. If you do not want to be legally bound by the settlement, you must exclude yourself in writing by August 10, 2015 or you will not be able to sue, or continue to sue, the Settling Defendants about the legal claims in this case.

If you wish to comment on or disagree with any aspect of the proposed settlement, you must do so in writing no later than August 10, 2015. The settlement agreement, along with details on how to object to it, is available at $www. CRTDirect Purchaser Antitrust Settlement.com. \ \ The$ U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California will hold a Fairness Hearing at 10:00 a.m. on October 23, 2015 at the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, 450 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco, CA 94102 Courtroom 1 17th Floor. The hearing may be moved to a different date or time without additional notice, so it is a good idea to check the class website for information.

The Court has appointed the law firm of Saveri & Saveri, Inc. to represent Direct Purchaser Class members as Interim Lead Class Counsel. At the Fairness Hearing, the Court will consider whether the settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate. If there are objections or comments, the Court will consider them at that time. You may appear at the hearing, but don't have to. We do not know how long these decisions will take. Please do not contact the Court about this case.
